

refinelines

Colin Dorgan
Fine Art and Design

"Breach"

The Piece is to be named in memory of the late Noel Fowler. He had been a friend, Architect and a thoughtful member of the community in Halifax.

This form is based on a young humpback whale. This is the moment of weightlessness at the peak of her hopeful breach. The leaning archway is being held in time by 5 brass rods. This structural dialogue is intended to inspire and challenge convention. Breaking through the surface.

colin@refinelines.ca
www.refinelines.ca